

Cookies Policy

1. Overview

Cookies are small text files stored on your device when you visit a website. These files enable websites to remember your actions and preferences (such as login details, language selection, or other settings) over a period of time. Cookies do not carry viruses or malware and cannot access any data on your computer or alter its functions. Instead, they act as logs that store information about your interaction with a website and are updated upon each visit.

At UTO Capital Ltd, we use cookies to enhance your browsing experience, improve our website's performance, and gather insights on how visitors use our services. When you interact with our website(s), cookies may be sent to your browser, allowing us to access certain information about your activity. The type and function of cookies we use vary, including session cookies that expire once you leave our site. For a breakdown of the specific cookies we use, please refer to the sections below.

2. Purpose of using Cookies

We use cookies for the following purposes:

- Performance and Analytics: Cookies help us understand how visitors navigate our website(s), enabling us to improve performance, detect issues, and refine user experience. For instance, they help us determine which pages are most popular and evaluate the effectiveness of navigation paths and referral sources.
- Session Management: When you log in to the Members Area to make transactions, session cookies are used to keep you logged in across pages. Without these cookies, you would be prompted to re-enter your credentials on every new page.
- User Preferences: Cookies allow us to remember your settings and preferences—such as language selection, region, and login details—so you don't have to reconfigure them each time you visit. They also contribute to ensuring the security and efficiency of our platform.

Some key functions cookies provide include:

- Verifying your identity and location.
- Detecting your browser and device type.
- Identifying referral sources.
- Allowing third-party services to deliver customized content.
